

Design / Refine Your Own Online Learning Module

Learning Objectives What would you like your learners to know or do by the end of your online learning module?	Assessments How will you know if your learners have achieved your learning objectives?	Content & Activities What content and activities will you deliver to support your learning objectives?

Your Audience

Select a few of the following questions to answer that you may not have considered yet in your course / module design.

1. How are you considering all learner experiences in your course decisions?
2. Where will your learners be in their academic careers?
3. If your course is for academic credit: Is the course for majors or non-majors? Where in the curriculum does your course fit? What other courses will your learners have taken?
4. What expectations might learners have for your course?
5. What questions would you have for potential learners?
6. Why should learners care about this now? In 5-10 years?
7. What prior knowledge do your learners have? What misconceptions?

Who are your learners?
